DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 23-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Martindale in view of Goldman.

Martindale discloses in figures 1-8 a wrap configured as a sleeve comprising an elongated flexible strip of elastic material 48, a sheet 60 of flexible material, an attachment element (18 and a portion of 46) and a fastening means (the rest of 46). However, Martindale does not disclose the fastening means extending along the entire surface of the flexible strip. Goldman teaches in figures 1-2 a wrap comprising a fastening means 6 extending along the entire surface of the strap. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time that the invention was made that the fastening means being along the entire length of the strap as taught by Goldman could be incorporated into the wrap disclosed by Martindale in order to be able to fasten the ends of the strip together along any portion of the strip. The attachment means is at both ends of the strip (a portion of 22 and 18). The sheet 68 is elastic. Martindale discloses in figures 1-8 a wrap comprising a pocket 60, an elongated flexible band 48, an attachment element (22,18), the two portions on the opposite side of the pocket are compression band portions. Goldman teaches in figures

1-2 a wrap comprising a fastening means on the entire surface. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time that the invention was made that the fastening means could be along the entire wrap as taught by Goldman in order to be able to fasten the wrap along any portion thereon.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 23-28 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
